

Appendix

The John Buck Company (“TJBC”) recently identified and addressed a security incident that involved unauthorized access to their systems. Upon identifying the activity, TJBC promptly took steps to secure the network and began an investigation. The investigation determined that unauthorized access occurred intermittently between January 10, 2025 and June 10, 2025. The investigation identified files that were accessed without authorization, and those files were reviewed for personal information. On November 7, 2025, TJBC determined that one or more of the files contained personal information including the name, Social Security number, and driver’s license number of two Nebraska residents.

On December 22, 2025, TJBC mailed notification letters via United States Postal Service First-Class mail to the Nebraska residents. A copy of the notification is enclosed. TJBC is offering one year of complimentary credit monitoring, fraud consultation, and identity theft restoration services through Cyberscout to individuals whose Social Security number or driver’s license number are involved. TJBC has established a dedicated, toll-free call center for individuals to call with questions.

To help prevent something like this from happening again, TJBC has taken additional steps to enhance already existing security measures.

Notice of Data Breach

Dear [REDACTED]

The John Buck Company is writing to inform you of a cybersecurity incident which involved some of your information. This letter explains the incident, the measures we have taken, and some steps you may consider taking in response.

What Happened? We identified and addressed a security incident that involved unauthorized access to our systems. Upon identifying the activity, we promptly took steps to secure our systems and began an investigation. The investigation determined that an unauthorized third-party accessed our systems intermittently between January 10, 2025 and June 10, 2025, and obtained certain files from our systems.

What Information Was Involved? We conducted a review of those files, and on November 7, 2025, we determined that one or more files contained your name and Social Security number.

What We Are Doing. We are notifying you about this incident so you can take any necessary precautions. We arranged for you to receive a complimentary, twelve (12) months membership of credit monitoring and identity theft protection services by Cyberscout, a TransUnion company. These services are completely free to you and enrolling will not hurt your credit score. To help prevent something like this from happening again, we have taken steps to enhance our existing security measures.

What You Can Do. We encourage you to remain vigilant by reviewing your financial account statements for any unauthorized activity. If you see charges or activity you did not authorize, please contact your financial institution immediately. For more information on additional steps you can take, including instructions on how to activate your complimentary membership, please see the additional information provided with this letter.

For More Information. We sincerely regret that this incident occurred and any inconvenience it may have caused. If you have any questions, please call our dedicated help line at 833-961-6716, Monday through Friday, between 8 a.m. and 8 p.m., Central Time, excluding certain U.S. holidays.

Sincerely,

Nick Covello | Chief Information Officer
The John Buck Company, L.L.C.

In order for you to receive the monitoring services described above, you must enroll within 90 days from the date of this letter. The enrollment requires an internet connection and e-mail account and may not be available to minors under the age of 18 years of age. Please note that when signing up for monitoring services, you may be asked to verify personal information for your own protection to confirm your identity.

ADDITIONAL STEPS YOU CAN TAKE

We remind you it is always advisable to be vigilant for incidents of fraud or identity theft by reviewing your account statements and free credit reports for any unauthorized activity over the next 12 to 24 months. You may obtain a copy of your credit report, free of charge, once every 12 months from each of the three nationwide credit reporting companies. To order your annual free credit report, please visit www.annualcreditreport.com or call toll free at 1-877-322-8228. Contact information for the three nationwide credit reporting companies is as follows:

Equifax, PO Box 740241, Atlanta, GA 30374, www.equifax.com, 1-888-378-4329

Experian, PO Box 2002, Allen, TX 75013, www.experian.com, 1-888-397-3742

TransUnion, PO Box 1000, Chester, PA 19016, www.transunion.com, 1-800-916-8800

If you believe you are the victim of identity theft or have reason to believe your personal information has been misused, you should immediately contact the Federal Trade Commission and/or the Attorney General's office in your state. You can obtain information from these sources about steps an individual can take to avoid identity theft as well as information about fraud alerts and security freezes. You should also contact your local law enforcement authorities and file a police report. Obtain a copy of the police report in case you are asked to provide copies to creditors to correct your records. Contact information for the Federal Trade Commission is as follows:

Federal Trade Commission, Consumer Response Center, 600 Pennsylvania Avenue NW,
Washington, DC 20580, 1-877-IDTHEFT (438-4338), www.identitytheft.gov

Fraud Alerts and Credit or Security Freezes:

Fraud Alerts: There are two types of general fraud alerts you can place on your credit report to put your creditors on notice that you may be a victim of fraud—an initial alert and an extended alert. You may ask that an initial fraud alert be placed on your credit report if you suspect you have been, or are about to be, a victim of identity theft. An initial fraud alert stays on your credit report for one year. You may have an extended alert placed on your credit report if you have already been a victim of identity theft with the appropriate documentary proof. An extended fraud alert stays on your credit report for seven years.

To place a fraud alert on your credit reports, contact one of the nationwide credit bureaus. A fraud alert is free. The credit bureau you contact must tell the other two, and all three will place an alert on their versions of your report.

For those in the military who want to protect their credit while deployed, an Active Duty Military Fraud Alert lasts for one year and can be renewed for the length of your deployment. The credit bureaus will also take you off their marketing lists for pre-screened credit card offers for two years, unless you ask them not to.

Credit or Security Freezes: You have the right to put a credit freeze, also known as a security freeze, on your credit file, free of charge, which makes it more difficult for identity thieves to open new accounts in your name. That's because most creditors need to see your credit report before they approve a new account. If they can't see your report, they may not extend the credit.

How do I place a freeze on my credit reports? There is no fee to place or lift a security freeze. Unlike a fraud alert, you must separately place a security freeze on your credit file at each credit reporting company. For information and instructions to place a security freeze, contact each of the credit reporting agencies at the addresses below:

Experian Security Freeze, PO Box 9554, Allen, TX 75013, www.experian.com

TransUnion Security Freeze, PO Box 160, Woodlyn, PA 19094, www.transunion.com

Equifax Security Freeze, PO Box 105788, Atlanta, GA 30348, www.equifax.com

You'll need to supply your name, address, date of birth, Social Security number and other personal information.

After receiving your freeze request, each credit bureau will provide you with a unique PIN (personal identification number) or password. Keep the PIN or password in a safe place. You will need it if you choose to lift the freeze.

How do I lift a freeze? A freeze remains in place until you ask the credit bureau to temporarily lift it or remove it altogether. If the request is made online or by phone, a credit bureau must lift a freeze within one hour. If the request is made by mail, then the bureau must lift the freeze no later than three business days after getting your request.

If you opt for a temporary lift because you are applying for credit or a job, and you can find out which credit bureau the business will contact for your file, you can save some time by lifting the freeze only at that particular credit bureau. Otherwise, you need to make the request with all three credit bureaus.

The John Buck Company can be contacted by mail at 33 N LaSalle St, Suite 1010 Chicago, Illinois 60602 and by phone at (312) 993-9800.

A Summary of Your Rights Under the Fair Credit Reporting Act: The federal Fair Credit Reporting Act (FCRA) promotes the accuracy, fairness, and privacy of information in the files of consumer reporting agencies. There are many types of consumer reporting agencies, including credit bureaus and specialty agencies (such as agencies that sell information about check writing histories, medical records, and rental history records). Your major rights under the FCRA are summarized below. For more information, including information about additional rights, go to www.consumerfinance.gov/learnmore or write to: Consumer Financial Protection Bureau, 1700 G Street NW, Washington, DC 20552.

You must be told if information in your file has been used against you.

You have the right to know what is in your file.

You have the right to ask for a credit score.

You have the right to dispute incomplete or inaccurate information.

Consumer reporting agencies must correct or delete inaccurate, incomplete, or unverifiable information.

Consumer reporting agencies may not report outdated negative information.

Access to your file is limited.

You must give your consent for reports to be provided to employers.

You may limit "prescreened" offers of credit and insurance you get based on information in your credit report.

You have a right to place a "security freeze" on your credit report, which will prohibit a consumer reporting agency from releasing information in your credit report without your express authorization.

You may seek damages from violators.

Identity theft victims and active duty military personnel have additional rights.
