This notice may be supplemented if any new, significant facts are learned subsequent to its submission. By providing this notice, Horizon does not waive any rights or defenses regarding the applicability of Nebraska law, the applicability of the Nebraska data event notification statute, or personal jurisdiction.

Nature of the Data Event

On December 27, 2024, Horizon learned that a computer virus was used to lock access to some files stored on its computer network. In response, Horizon securely restored its systems and took steps to determine what occurred. During the investigation of this matter, Horizon identified that files on certain systems were likely copied without permission between December 26 and 27. To ensure Horizon could properly notify patients about the information in the copied files, including the types of information contained within the files, it undertook an intensive review of those files, which concluded for these residents on May 20, 2025. The information identified for state residents included name and the following: Social Security number.

Notice to Nebraska Residents

On June 27, 2025, Horizon began providing written notice about this matter to approximately eleven (11) Nebraska residents. Written notice is being provided in substantially the same form as the letter attached here as Exhibit A. Additionally, Horizon placed a notice about this matter on its website on June 23, 2025.

Other Steps Taken and To Be Taken

Upon identifying this matter, Horizon moved quickly to investigate what occurred, assess the security of its systems, and identify potentially affected individuals. Further, Horizon notified Federal law enforcement regarding the event. Horizon also implemented additional technological safeguards and training to its employees. Horizon is providing access to credit monitoring services for twelve (12) months, through Kroll, to individuals whose personal information was potentially affected by this incident, at no cost to these individuals.

Additionally, Horizon is providing impacted individuals with guidance on how to better protect against identity theft and fraud. This includes providing individuals with information on how to place a fraud alert and security freeze on one's credit file, the contact details for the national consumer reporting agencies, information on how to obtain a free credit report, a reminder to remain vigilant for incidents of fraud and identity theft by reviewing account statements and monitoring free credit reports, and encouragement to contact the Federal Trade Commission, their state Attorney General, and law enforcement to report attempted or actual identity theft and fraud.

Horizon is providing written notice of this incident to relevant state regulators, as necessary, and to the three major credit reporting agencies, Equifax, Experian, and TransUnion.

Dear <<first_name>> <<last_name>>:

Horizon Healthcare RCM ("Horizon") writes to inform you about a matter that may involve your information, our response, and steps you may take should you feel it is appropriate to do so. Horizon is a revenue-cycle management company providing hospitals, health systems, and medical centers with accounts receivable and revenue reporting services. Horizon has your information because you received medical services from a Horizon customer. Your information involved with this matter did not have an associated customer name, so we are unable to provide you with the customer's information.

What Happened? On December 27, 2024, we learned that a computer virus was used to lock access to some files stored on our computer network. In response, we securely restored our systems and took steps to determine what occurred. During our investigation of this matter, we identified that files on certain systems were likely copied without permission between December 26 and 27. To ensure we could properly notify patients whose information was in the copied files, including the types of information contained within the files, we undertook an intensive review of those files, which concluded on May 20, 2025.

What Information Was Involved? The files contained the following types of information: <<b2b_text_2 (Data elements)>><<b2b_text_4 (Data Elements cont...)>>. Please note, however, that your information being contained in the files does not mean you are the victim of identity theft or fraud, and we have no indication of an individual experiencing verified identity theft as a result of this incident. Any steps you may wish to take in response to this matter are a personal decision. Nevertheless, if you have any concerns, we are providing you with complimentary identity monitoring and free resources detailed below.

What We Are Doing. We arranged for the party responsible for this matter to delete the copied information. Further, Horizon is providing notice of this event to individuals so they may take steps to help safeguard their information, should they feel it appropriate to do so. We are also providing free resources and guidance in the "Steps Individuals Can Take To Help Protect Personal Information" section below. While no safeguards can fully prevent all cybersecurity attacks, we also implemented additional technical measures and processes to further enhance the company's security.

What You Can Do. We encourage you to remain vigilant against incidents of identity theft and fraud by reviewing your relevant account statements, if any, and monitoring your free credit reports for suspicious activity and to detect errors. We also recommend you review the "Steps Individuals Can Take To Help Protect Personal Information" section of this letter and activate the complimentary identity monitoring.

For More Information. If you have questions about this matter, please contact our toll-free assistance line at 1-866-461-8271, Monday through Friday from 9:00 a.m. to 6:30 p.m. Eastern (excluding U.S. holidays). You may also write to Horizon at Horizon Healthcare RCM, Attn: Compliance, 9980 Georgia St, Crown Point, IN 46307.

Sincerely,

Horizon Healthcare RCM

Monitor Your Accounts

Under U.S. law, a consumer is entitled to one free credit report annually from each of the three major credit reporting bureaus, Equifax, Experian, and TransUnion. To order a free credit report, visit www.annualcreditreport.com or call, toll-free, 1-877-322-8228. Consumers may also directly contact the three major credit reporting bureaus listed below to request a free copy of their credit report.

Consumers have the right to place an initial or extended “fraud alert” on a credit file at no cost. An initial fraud alert is a 1-year alert that is placed on a consumer’s credit file. Upon seeing a fraud alert display on a consumer’s credit file, a business is required to take steps to verify the consumer’s identity before extending new credit. If consumers are the victim of identity theft, they are entitled to an extended fraud alert, which is a fraud alert lasting seven years. Should consumers wish to place a fraud alert, please contact any of the three major credit reporting bureaus listed below.

As an alternative to a fraud alert, consumers have the right to place a “credit freeze” on a credit report, which will prohibit a credit bureau from releasing information in the credit report without the consumer’s express authorization. The credit freeze is designed to prevent credit, loans, and services from being approved in a consumer’s name without consent. However, consumers should be aware that using a credit freeze to take control over who gets access to the personal and financial information in their credit report may delay, interfere with, or prohibit the timely approval of any subsequent request or application they make regarding a new loan, credit, mortgage, or any other account involving the extension of credit. Pursuant to federal law, consumers cannot be charged to place or lift a credit freeze on their credit report. To request a credit freeze, individuals may need to provide some or all of the following information:

1. Full name (including middle initial as well as Jr., Sr., II, III, etc.);
2. Social Security number;
3. Date of birth;
4. Addresses for the prior two to five years;
5. Proof of current address, such as a current utility bill or telephone bill;
6. A legible photocopy of a government-issued identification card (state driver’s license or ID card, etc.); and
7. A copy of either the police report, investigative report, or complaint to a law enforcement agency concerning identity theft if they are a victim of identity theft.

Should consumers wish to place a credit freeze or fraud alert, please contact the three major credit reporting bureaus listed below:

Additional Information

Consumers may further educate themselves regarding identity theft, fraud alerts, credit freezes, and the steps they can take to protect personal information by contacting the consumer reporting bureaus, the Federal Trade Commission, or their state Attorney General. The Federal Trade Commission may be reached at: 600 Pennsylvania Ave NW, Washington, D.C. 20580; www.identitytheft.gov; 1-877-ID-THEFT (1-877-438-4338); and TTY: 1-866-653-4261. The Federal Trade Commission also encourages those who discover that their information has been misused to file a complaint with them. Consumers can obtain further information on how to file such a complaint by way of the contact information listed above. Consumers have the right to file a police report if they ever experience identity theft or fraud. Please note that in order to file a report with law enforcement for identity theft, consumers will likely need to provide some proof that they have been a victim. Instances of known or suspected identity theft should also be reported to law enforcement and the relevant state Attorney General. This notice has not been delayed by law enforcement.

For District of Columbia residents, the District of Columbia Attorney General may be contacted at: 400 6th Street, NW, Washington, D.C. 20001; (202) 442-9828; and oag.dc.gov.

For Maryland residents, the Maryland Attorney General may be contacted at: 200 St. Paul Place, 16th Floor, Baltimore, MD 21202; 1-410-576-6300 or 1-888-743-0023; and <https://www.marylandattorneygeneral.gov/>.

For New Mexico residents, consumers have rights pursuant to the Fair Credit Reporting Act, such as the right to be told if information in their credit file has been used against them, the right to know what is in their credit file, the right to ask for their credit score, and the right to dispute incomplete or inaccurate information. Further, pursuant to the Fair Credit Reporting Act, the consumer reporting bureaus must correct or delete inaccurate, incomplete, or unverifiable information; consumer reporting agencies may not report outdated negative information; access to consumers' files is limited; consumers must give consent for credit reports to be provided to employers; consumers may limit "prescreened" offers of credit and insurance based on information in their credit report; and consumers may seek damages from violators. Consumers may have additional rights under the Fair Credit Reporting Act not summarized here. Identity theft victims and active-duty military personnel have specific additional rights pursuant to the Fair Credit Reporting Act. We encourage consumers to review their rights pursuant to the Fair Credit Reporting Act by visiting www.consumerfinance.gov/f/201504_cfpb_summary_your-rights-under-fcra.pdf, or by writing Consumer Response Center, Room 130-A, Federal Trade Commission, 600 Pennsylvania Ave NW, Washington, D.C. 20580.

For New York residents, the New York Attorney General may be contacted at: Office of the Attorney General, The Capitol, Albany, NY 12224-0341; 1-800-771-7755; or <https://ag.ny.gov>.

For North Carolina residents, the North Carolina Attorney General may be contacted at: 9001 Mail Service Center, Raleigh, NC 27699-9001; 1-877-566-7226 or 1-919-716-6000; and www.ncdoj.gov.

For Rhode Island residents, the Rhode Island Attorney General may be contacted at: 150 South Main Street, Providence, RI 02903; 1-401-274-4400; and www.riag.ri.gov. Under Rhode Island law, individuals have the right to obtain any police report filed in regard to this event. <<b2b_text_3(There are approximately [Number] Rhode Island residents that may be impacted by this event.)>>

TAKE ADVANTAGE OF YOUR IDENTITY MONITORING SERVICES

You have been provided with access to the following services from Kroll:

Single Bureau Credit Monitoring

You will receive alerts when there are changes to your credit data—for instance, when a new line of credit is applied for in your name. If you do not recognize the activity, you'll have the option to call a Kroll fraud specialist, who will be able to help you determine if it is an indicator of identity theft. To receive credit services, you must be over the age of 18 and have established credit in the U.S., have a Social Security number in your name, and have a U.S. residential address associated with your credit file.

Fraud Consultation

You have unlimited access to consultation with a Kroll fraud specialist. Support includes showing you the most effective ways to protect your identity, explaining your rights and protections under the law, assistance with fraud alerts, and interpreting how personal information is accessed and used, including investigating suspicious activity that could be tied to an identity theft event.

Identity Theft Restoration

If you become a victim of identity theft, an experienced Kroll licensed investigator will work on your behalf to resolve related issues. You will have access to a dedicated investigator who understands your issues and can do most of the work for you. Your investigator will be able to dig deep to uncover the scope of the identity theft, and then work to resolve it.
