EXHIBIT 1

This notice will be supplemented with any new significant facts learned subsequent to its submission. By providing this notice, Brumbaugh Wealth Management ("Brumbaugh") does not waive any rights or defenses regarding the applicability of Nebraska law, the applicability of the Nebraska data event notification statute, or personal jurisdiction.

Nature of the Email Event

Brumbaugh became aware of suspicious login activity involving an employee's email account. Brumbaugh investigated the activity, and the investigation determined email accounts were accessed by an unknown individual between July 3, 2024, and July 8, 2024. Brumbaugh reviewed the potentially impacted data for personal information and on or around November 7, 2024, the preliminary review was completed. Since then, Brumbaugh has been working to validate the data and confirm necessary address information to prepare for notification.

The potentially impacted data varies per person but can include name, Social Security number, driver's license number, and financial account information.

Notice to Nebraska Resident

On January 13, 2025, Brumbaugh provided written notice of this event to one (1) Nebraska resident. Written notice is being provided in substantially the same form as the letter attached here as Exhibit A.

Other Steps Taken and To Be Taken

Upon being alerted to the suspicious activity through its existing security procedures, Brumbaugh took steps to secure the email accounts, assess the security of the email environment, and investigate the activity to determine what happened. Brumbaugh then took steps to identify potentially impacted personal information for purposes of providing notice. As part of its ongoing commitment to the privacy of information in its care, Brumbaugh notified federal law enforcement and reviewed and enhanced its existing policies and procedures. Brumbaugh is providing access to credit monitoring services for one (1) year, through Experian, to individuals whose personal information was potentially affected by the event, at no cost to these individuals.

Additionally, Brumbaugh's notice to individuals provides guidance on how to better protect against identity theft and fraud. Brumbaugh is providing individuals with information on how to place a fraud alert and security freeze on one's credit file, the contact details for the national consumer reporting agencies, information on how to obtain a free credit report, a reminder to remain vigilant for incidents of fraud and identity theft by reviewing account statements and monitoring free credit reports, and encouragement to contact the Federal Trade Commission, their state Attorney General, and law enforcement to report attempted or actual identity theft and fraud.

Brumbaugh is providing written notice of the Event to relevant state regulators and to the three major credit reporting agencies, Equifax, Experian, and TransUnion.

NOTICE OF DATA BREACH

Dear Sample A. Sample:

Brumbaugh Wealth Management ("Brumbaugh") is writing to notify you of an email event at Brumbaugh. This notice provides you with information about the event, our response, and resources available to you to help better protect your information, should you feel it appropriate to do so.

What Happened? Brumbaugh became aware of suspicious login activity involving an employee's email account. We investigated the activity, and the investigation determined email accounts were accessed by an unknown individual between July 3, 2024 and July 8, 2024. We reviewed the potentially impacted data for personal information and on or around November 7, 2024, the preliminary review was completed. Since then, we worked to validate the data and confirm necessary address information to prepare for notification.

What Information Was Involved? The review determined the following types of personal information relating to you were present in an involved email account: name, [Extra1][Extra2][Extra3].

What We Are Doing. We take this event and the security of personal information in our care seriously. Upon being alerted to the suspicious activity through our existing security procedures, we took steps to secure the email accounts, assess the security of the email environment, and to investigate the activity to determine what happened. We then took steps to identify potentially impacted personal information in the accounts for purposes of providing notice. As part of our ongoing commitment to the privacy of information in our care, we notified federal law enforcement and reviewed and enhanced our existing policies and procedures. As an added precaution, we are offering you access to credit monitoring services for [twelve (12)/twenty-four (24)] months at no cost to you. More information about these services is included in the Steps You Can Take to Protect Personal Information portion of this notice.

What You Can Do. We encourage you to remain vigilant against incidents of identity theft and fraud by reviewing your account statements and monitoring your free credit reports for suspicious activity and to detect errors over the next 12 to 24 months. Any suspicious activity should be promptly reported to your bank, credit card company, or other applicable institution. You may enroll in the offered complimentary monitoring services. Although we are making these services available to you, we are unable to enroll you directly for privacy reasons. Additional information and resources are included in the Steps You Can Take to Protect Personal Information portion of this notice.

For More Information. If you have questions, you may contact us at 1-833-918-6974 toll-free Monday through Friday from 9:00 am - 9:00 pm Eastern Time (excluding major U.S. holidays). You may also write to 415 Eagleview Blvd, Suite 110 Exton, PA 19341.

Sincerely,

Kimberly J. Brumbaugh, LUTCF

Monitor Your Accounts

Under U.S. law, a consumer is entitled to one free credit report annually from each of the three major credit reporting bureaus, Equifax, Experian, and TransUnion. To order a free credit report, visit www.annualcreditreport.com or call, toll-free, 1-877-322-8228. Consumers may also directly contact the three major credit reporting bureaus listed below to request a free copy of their credit report.

Consumers have the right to place an initial or extended "fraud alert" on a credit file at no cost. An initial fraud alert is a one-year alert that is placed on a consumer's credit file. Upon seeing a fraud alert display on a consumer's credit file, a business is required to take steps to verify the consumer's identity before extending new credit. If consumers are the victim of identity theft, they are entitled to an extended fraud alert, which is a fraud alert lasting seven years. Should consumers wish to place a fraud alert, please contact any of the three major credit reporting bureaus listed below.

As an alternative to a fraud alert, consumers have the right to place a "credit freeze" on a credit report, which will prohibit a credit bureau from releasing information in the credit report without the consumer's express authorization. The credit freeze is designed to prevent credit, loans, and services from being approved in a consumer's name without consent. However, consumers should be aware that using a credit freeze to take control over who gets access to the personal and financial information in their credit report may delay, interfere with, or prohibit the timely approval of any subsequent request or application they make regarding a new loan, credit, mortgage, or any other account involving the extension of credit. Pursuant to federal law, consumers cannot be charged to place or lift a credit freeze on their credit report. To request a credit freeze, individuals may need to provide some or all of the following information:

1. Full name (including middle initial as well as Jr., Sr., II, III, etc.);
2. Social Security number;
3. Date of birth;
4. Addresses for the prior two to five years;
5. Proof of current address, such as a current utility bill or telephone bill;
6. A legible photocopy of a government-issued identification card (state driver's license or ID card, etc.); and
7. A copy of either the police report, investigative report, or complaint to a law enforcement agency concerning identity theft if they are a victim of identity theft.

Should consumers wish to place a credit freeze or fraud alert, please contact the three major credit reporting bureaus listed below:

Additional Information

Consumers may further educate themselves regarding identity theft, fraud alerts, credit freezes, and the steps they can take to protect their personal information by contacting the consumer reporting bureaus, the Federal Trade Commission, or their state Attorney General. The Federal Trade Commission may be reached at: 600 Pennsylvania Avenue NW, Washington, D.C. 20580; www.identitytheft.gov; 1-877-ID-THEFT (1-877-438-4338); and TTY: 1-866-653-4261. The Federal Trade Commission also encourages those who discover that their information has been misused to file a complaint with them. Consumers can obtain further information on how to file such a complaint by way of the contact information listed above. Consumers have the right to file a police report if they ever experience identity theft or fraud. Please note that in order to file a report with law enforcement for identity theft, consumers will likely need to provide some proof that they have been a victim. Instances of known or suspected identity theft should also be reported to law enforcement and the relevant state Attorney General. This notice has not been delayed by law enforcement.
