Re: Notification of Data Security Event

To Whom It May Concern:

Constangy, Brooks, Smith & Prophete, LLP represents Langdon & Emison LLC (“LE”), in connection with its response to a recent data event discussed below. LE is a law firm located at 911 Main Street, Lexington, MO 64067. The purpose of this letter is to notify you of the event in accordance with Nebraska data breach notification statute. This notice may be supplemented with any new significant facts learned subsequent to its submission. By providing this notice, LE does not waive any rights or defenses regarding the applicability of Nebraska law, the applicability of the Nebraska data event notification statute, or personal jurisdiction.

1. Nature of the Data Security Event

On May 28, 2025, LE identified unexpected activity on its network. LE promptly took steps to ensure the continued security of its environment and launched an investigation to determine the nature and scope of the disruption. As a result of the investigation, LE determined that an unauthorized actor accessed its network on May 27, 2025 and had the ability to access certain files.

2. Nebraska Residents & Information Involved

The information involved in the event for any affected Nebraska residents may have included name, Social Security number, date of birth, driver’s license number, financial account information, medical information, and/or other materials prepared or provided during the course of legal representation.

3. Notification to Individuals

The investigation could not identify definitively whether any Nebraska resident had protected information subject to unauthorized access or acquisition during the event. To provide greatest visibility to Nebraska residents as to what occurred, on October 31, 2025, LE began hosting notice of the event on the firm website and provided notice to the media. The notice on the LE website provides resources and steps individuals can take to help protect their information. A sample of the notice hosted on the LE website is attached.

4. Measures Taken to Address the Event

Upon identifying this event, in addition to taking the steps described above, LE took steps to learn more about what happened and what information could have been affected. LE is hosting notice of the event on the firm website, which includes steps individuals can take to protect their personal information, should they feel it appropriate to do so. In addition, LE has a toll-free call center to answer individuals' questions about the event and address related concerns.

5. Contact Information

If you have any questions or need additional information regarding this event, please do not hesitate to contact me at ljensen@constangy.com.

Sincerely,

Exhibit A

Notice Hosted on the Langdon & Emison LLC Website

Langdon & Emison LLC experienced a data security event that may affect the privacy of certain individuals' data. We take the privacy and security of all information within our possession very seriously. Please read the following information regarding the event carefully because it contains steps that you can take to help protect your personal information, should you feel appropriate to do so.

What Happened: On May 28, 2025, we identified unexpected activity on our network. We promptly took steps to ensure the continued security of our environment and engaged digital forensics specialists to assist with our investigation. The investigation confirmed that an unauthorized actor accessed our network on May 27, 2025 and had the ability to access certain files.

What Information Was Involved: The accessible information varies by individual but may include an individual's name in combination with a Social Security number, date of birth, driver's license number, financial account information, medical information, and/or other materials prepared or provided during the course of legal representation. We have no evidence of any misuse or attempted misuse of the accessible information.

What We Are Doing: We promptly investigated the event to ensure the continued security of our environment and the data we hold and to understand the nature and scope of what occurred. We provided this notice with information on steps you can take to protect your data. We implemented additional security measures to minimize the risk of a similar event occurring in the future. We notified federal law enforcement and cooperated with its inquiries to aid in any investigation it undertakes.

What You Can Do: You can follow the recommendations set forth below in the Steps You Can Take to Help Protect Your Personal Information section.

For More Information. If you have questions that are not addressed through this notice, you may contact our dedicated assistance line at 1-833-714-7260 between the hours of 7:00 a.m. to 7:00 p.m. Central time, Monday through Friday, excluding holidays, or write to us directly at 911 Main Street, Lexington, MO 64067.

Steps You Can Take to Help Protect Your Personal Information

Review Your Account Statements and Notify Law Enforcement of Suspicious Activity: As a precautionary measure, we recommend that you remain vigilant by reviewing your account statements and credit reports closely. If you detect any suspicious activity on an account, you should promptly notify the financial institution or company with which the account is maintained. You also should promptly report any fraudulent activity or any suspected incidence of identity theft to proper law enforcement authorities, your state attorney general, and/or the Federal Trade Commission (FTC).

Copy of Credit Report: You may obtain a free copy of your credit report from each of the three major credit reporting agencies once every 12 months by visiting www.annualcreditreport.com, calling toll-free 1-877-322-8228, or by completing an Annual Credit Report Request Form and mailing it to Annual Credit Report Request Service, P.O. Box 105281, Atlanta, GA 30348. You also can contact one of the following three national credit reporting agencies:

Equifax
P.O. Box 105851
Atlanta, GA 30348
1-800-525-6285
www.equifax.com

Experian
P.O. Box 9532
Allen, TX 75013
1-888-397-3742
www.experian.com

TransUnion
P.O. Box 2000
Chester, PA 19016
1-800-916-8800
www.transunion.com

Fraud Alert: You may want to consider placing a fraud alert on your credit report. An initial fraud alert is free and will stay on your credit file for at least one year. The alert informs creditors of possible fraudulent activity within your report and requests that the creditor contact you prior to establishing any accounts in your name. To place a fraud alert on your credit report, contact any of the three credit reporting agencies identified above. Additional information is available at www.annualcreditreport.com. You cannot be charged to place or remove a fraud alert.

Credit Freeze: You have the right to put a credit freeze on your credit file for up to one year at no cost. This will prevent new credit from being opened in your name without the use of a PIN number that is issued to you when you initiate the freeze. A credit freeze is designed to prevent potential creditors from accessing your credit report without your consent. As a result, using a credit freeze may interfere with or delay your ability to obtain credit. You must separately place a credit freeze on your credit file with each credit reporting agency. In order to place a credit freeze, you may be required to provide the consumer reporting agency with information that identifies you including your full name, Social Security number, date of birth, current and previous addresses, a copy of your state-issued identification card, and a recent utility bill, bank statement or insurance statement. You cannot be charged to place or lift a credit freeze.

Additional Free Resources: You can obtain information from the consumer reporting agencies, the FTC, or from your respective state Attorney General about fraud alerts, credit freezes, and steps you can take toward preventing identity theft. You may report suspected identity theft to local law enforcement, including to the FTC or to the Attorney General in your state.
