EXHIBIT 1

We represent International Sensor Systems, Inc. dba Aurora Boardworks ("International Sensor") located at 103 Grant Street, Aurora, Nebraska 68818, and are writing to notify your office of an event that may affect the security of certain personal information relating to one hundred forty-seven (147) Nebraska residents (the "Event"). This notice will be supplemented with any new significant facts learned subsequent to its submission. By providing this notice, International Sensor does not waive any rights or defenses regarding the applicability of Nebraska law, the applicability of the Nebraska data event notification statute, or personal jurisdiction.

Nature of the Data Event

International Sensor identified suspicious activity within its systems and promptly took steps to investigate the activity and secure their network. The investigation determined there was unauthorized access to its network between January 30, 2025, and February 1, 2025, and during that time certain files were copied. The files were reviewed to determine the types of information present and to whom it relates, and on February 26, 2025, International Sensor completed the review. The review identified information including name, and Social Security number.

Notice to Nebraska Residents

On April 17, 2025, International Sensor began providing written notice of the Event to one hundred forty-seven (147) Nebraska residents. Written notice is being provided in substantially the same form as the letter attached here as Exhibit A.

Other Steps Taken and To Be Taken

Upon learning of the suspicious activity, International Sensor moved quickly to investigate and respond, assess the security of International Sensor systems, and identify potentially affected individuals. Further, International Sensor notified federal law enforcement regarding the Event and is notifying relevant regulatory authorities. As part of its ongoing commitment to the privacy of information, International Sensor is implementing additional security measures and is reviewing its policies and procedures to further secure the information on its systems. International Sensor is providing access to credit monitoring services for one (1) year, through IDX, to individuals whose personal information was potentially affected by the Event, at no cost to these individuals.

Additionally, International Sensor's notice to individuals provides guidance on how to better protect against identity theft and fraud, including advising individuals to report any suspected incidents of identity theft or fraud to relevant parties including their financial institution and/or bank. International Sensor is providing individuals with information on how to place a fraud alert and security freeze on one's credit file, the contact details for the national consumer reporting agencies, information on how to obtain a free credit report, a reminder to remain vigilant for incidents of fraud and identity theft by reviewing account statements and monitoring free credit reports, and encouragement to contact the Federal Trade Commission, their state Attorney General, and law enforcement to report attempted or actual identity theft and fraud.

<<Variable Data 1: NOTICE OF DATA BREACH>>

Dear <<First Name>> <<Last Name>>:

International Sensor Systems, Inc. dba Aurora Boardworks ("International Sensor" or "we") is writing to inform you of an event which may involve some of your information. This letter provides an overview of the event, our response to the event, and steps you may take to protect your information, should you feel it is appropriate to do so.

What Happened? We identified suspicious activity within our systems and promptly took steps to investigate the activity and secure our network. The investigation determined there was unauthorized access to our network between January 30, 2025, and February 1, 2025, and during that time certain files were copied. We reviewed the files to determine the types of information present and to whom it relates, and on February 26, 2025, we completed the review.

What Information Was Involved? Our review of the involved files identified your name, and <<Variable Data 2: Impacted Data Elements>>.

What We Are Doing. We take this event and the security of personal information in our care seriously. Upon learning of the suspicious activity, we moved quickly to investigate and respond. The investigation included steps to assess and secure our network, review the involved files to determine what types of information may have been impacted, and notify potentially impacted individuals. As part of our ongoing commitment to the privacy of information, we are implementing additional security measures and are reviewing our policies and procedures to further secure the information on our systems. As an added precaution, we are offering you access to <<Membership Offering Length: 12 months/24 months>> of complimentary credit monitoring and identity protection services. If you wish to activate these services, you may follow the instructions included in the Steps You Can Take to Help Protect Your Personal Information section on the next page of this letter. Please note you must enroll in these services directly, as we are unable to do so on your behalf.

What You Can Do. We encourage you to remain vigilant against incidents of identity theft and fraud by reviewing your account statements and monitoring your free credit reports for suspicious activity and to detect errors. Suspicious activity and errors should be reported to the relevant parties including your bank and/or financial institution. You may review the Steps You Can Take to Help Protect Your Personal Information section of this letter for useful information on what you can do to better protect against possible misuse of information.

For More Information. If you have questions, you may contact us at 1-800-939-4170 Monday through Friday from 6 am - 6 pm Pacific Time.

Sincerely,

International Sensor Systems

Monitor Your Accounts

Under U.S. law, a consumer is entitled to one free credit report annually from each of the three major credit reporting bureaus, Equifax, Experian, and TransUnion. To order a free credit report, visit www.annualcreditreport.com or call, toll-free, 1-877-322-8228. Consumers may also directly contact the three major credit reporting bureaus listed below to request a free copy of their credit report.

Consumers have the right to place an initial or extended "fraud alert" on a credit file at no cost. An initial fraud alert is a 1-year alert that is placed on a consumer's credit file. Upon seeing a fraud alert display on a consumer's credit file, a business is required to take steps to verify the consumer's identity before extending new credit. If consumers are the victim of identity theft, they are entitled to an extended fraud alert, which is a fraud alert lasting seven years. Should consumers wish to place a fraud alert, please contact any of the three major credit reporting bureaus listed below.

As an alternative to a fraud alert, consumers have the right to place a "credit freeze" on a credit report, which will prohibit a credit bureau from releasing information in the credit report without the consumer's express authorization. The credit freeze is designed to prevent credit, loans, and services from being approved in a consumer's name without consent. However, consumers should be aware that using a credit freeze to take control over who gets access to the personal and financial information in their credit report may delay, interfere with, or prohibit the timely approval of any subsequent request or application they make regarding a new loan, credit, mortgage, or any other account involving the extension of credit. Pursuant to federal law, consumers cannot be charged to place or lift a credit freeze on their credit report. To request a credit freeze, individuals may need to provide some or all of the following information:

1. Full name (including middle initial as well as Jr., Sr., II, III, etc.);
2. Social Security number;
3. Date of birth;
4. Addresses for the prior two to five years;
5. Proof of current address, such as a current utility bill or telephone bill;
6. A legible photocopy of a government-issued identification card (state driver's license or ID card, etc.); and
7. A copy of either the police report, investigative report, or complaint to a law enforcement agency concerning identity theft if they are a victim of identity theft.

Should consumers wish to place a credit freeze or fraud alert, please contact the three major credit reporting bureaus listed below:

Additional Information

Consumers may further educate themselves regarding identity theft, fraud alerts, credit freezes, and the steps they can take to protect your personal information by contacting the consumer reporting bureaus, the Federal Trade Commission, or their state Attorney General. The Federal Trade Commission may be reached at: 600 Pennsylvania Avenue NW, Washington, D.C. 20580; www.identitytheft.gov; 1-877-ID-THEFT (1-877-438-4338); and TTY: 1-866-653-4261. The Federal Trade Commission also encourages those who discover that their information has been misused to file a complaint with them. Consumers can obtain further information on how to file such a complaint by way of the contact information listed above. Consumers have the right to file a police report if they ever experience identity theft or fraud. Please note that in order to file a report with law enforcement for identity theft, consumers will likely need to provide some proof that they have been a victim. Instances of known or suspected identity theft should also be reported to law enforcement and the relevant state Attorney General. This notice has not been delayed by law enforcement.

For District of Columbia residents, the District of Columbia Attorney General may be contacted at: 400 6th Street, NW, Washington, D.C. 20001; (202) 442-9828; and oag.dc.gov. International Sensor is located at 103 Grant Street, Aurora, Nebraska 68818.

For New Mexico residents, consumers have rights pursuant to the Fair Credit Reporting Act, such as the right to be told if information in their credit file has been used against them, the right to know what is in their credit file, the right to ask for their credit score, and the right to dispute incomplete or inaccurate information. Further, pursuant to the Fair Credit Reporting Act, the consumer reporting bureaus must correct or delete inaccurate, incomplete, or unverifiable information; consumer reporting agencies may not report outdated negative information; access to consumers' files is limited; consumers must give consent for credit reports to be provided to employers; consumers may limit "prescreened" offers of credit and insurance based on information in their credit report; and consumers may seek damages from violators. Consumers may have additional rights under the Fair Credit Reporting Act not summarized here. Identity theft victims and active-duty military personnel have specific additional rights pursuant to the Fair Credit Reporting Act. We encourage consumers to review their rights pursuant to the Fair Credit Reporting Act by visiting www.consumerfinance.gov/f/201504_cfpb_summary_your-rights-under-fcra.pdf, or by writing Consumer Response Center, Room 130-A, Federal Trade Commission, 600 Pennsylvania Ave. N.W., Washington, D.C. 20580.
